

GIANTS NEARER HOME.

New York Baseball Team at Columbia, S. C.

Boston Players There Also and Call
On Our Boys.

Souvenirs of Their Florida Sojourn
Will Adorn the Club-Room.

From The Evening World's Special Correspondent with the Team.

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 23.—The Giants arrived here at 8 o'clock this morning in good condition. The trip from Jacksonville was made without incident, and as most of the boys went to bed early, they got a good night's rest and were ready for to-day's game.

A number of the players, who are taking their preliminary work at Columbia, called on the team this morning. The beaters seem to be in good shape.

The Giants have had three weeks' practice in Florida. Just how much they have benefited from it, only the boys know. There is no doubt, that is that they left their practice grounds in excellent condition, ready and fit to play the National game as it should be played.

Judge Cullom, one of the warmest admirers of the Giants, if not the warmest, spent a couple of days in Jacksonville watching the boys, who will precede them home, and all inquiring friends who see the Judge will hear nothing but complimentary reports of the boys.

On Wednesday night he spent three hours with them and swapped baseball reminiscences. The Judge, by the way, has been called upon to umpire the game between a Brooklyn and Philadelphia society lodge this year, but after his experience of last year, he has respectfully declined.

Russie has taken off a lot of weight and is in the best of condition physically. He has recovered almost entirely from the cold which bothered him for a few days.

The insurance agent bloomed out at the hotel, and the last couple of days he made life miserable for the boys. They were not able to sit about the place without the fellow swooped down upon them with a 4x10 smile and painted glowing pictures of what might happen while they were traveling.

The boys will not arrive in New York empty handed. Stuffed alligators, alligator teeth, canes of varied descriptions and a host of other mementoes of Florida have been collected, many of which will adorn their new club-room at the Polo Grounds.

The team won a host of friends and admirers during their stay at Jacksonville, and promising invitations were extended to the management to have the club return next year.

The members of the Seminole Club, one of Florida's swaggar organizations, were especially hospitable towards the boys, and three big club-houses doors wide open to them.

The boys have also been the recipients of many presents, and have had the boxes at every performance at the Park Theatre.

PENNSY WANTS A GAME.

The U. of P. Faculty Will Ask Harvard to Play Football.

PHILADELPHIA, March 23.—The Faculty of the University of Pennsylvania is considering the advisability of asking the Harvard authorities that the annual football game between the two colleges be allowed under certain restrictions.

Since this year's game was to be played at Cambridge, it is thought the Harvard Faculty will waive its objections to the match at South Bethlehem. The game will be a dual football league between the two universities. A game with Yale next season seems out of the question.

Music and Trick Bicycle Riding.

Cyclists residents of the Park 142nd and Flat-bush sections of Brooklyn will in a few days receive artistic invitations to attend a music ride and entertainment at Schuylkill, to be held on the evening of April 4. The ride will mark the opening of the season and an elaborate program will be arranged. Trick riding by Healy, Katie Schuylkill, Frank, and others will be featured, as well as a dual bicycle race. The ride will close with dancing on the splendid floor of the academy.

THE GIANTS OF 1895.

From Photographs Taken at Jacksonville for "The Evening World."

Not quite a month now remains before the regular baseball season will be on in earnest, and the New York Giants are naturally more than anxious to again see the boys who will represent Gotham in the struggle for the pennant in the coming race.

Their work in the South has been watched with eager interest. Readers of "The Evening World" have been kept posted daily as to what was being done in Jacksonville.

While in Jacksonville, Manager Davis consented to allow the boys to have their pictures taken for "The Evening World," which is thus able to give to its readers the likenesses of each of the men who will wear the Giants' uniform this season.

George S. Davis, the captain and manager, is not yet twenty-five years old. He was born in Cohoes, N. Y., Aug. 23, 1870. His advancement in the baseball world was meteoric. He first attracted the attention of baseball magnates while playing with the Albany Club, a semi-professional team, in 1888. He was signed by the Cleveland Club in 1890, and remained there three years. In 1893 George was obtained by the New York management, and after the close of last season, when Johnny Ward resigned, he succeeded him as captain and manager.

One of the chief centres of interest in the team last season was Jimmy Stafford, the new second baseman. James was born in Webster, Mass., on Dec. 30, 1868. His first professional ball was played in Hartford in 1887. In 1888, '89 and '90 he played in Worcester, Mass., and from there joined the Buffalo Brotherhood team. In 1891 he went to Lincoln, and the following year was a member of the Los Angeles (Cal.) team. From there, in 1892, he went to Augusta, Ga., and from there to New York.

Tom Hannan is another new player in whom New Yorkers are interested. Tom's first saw the light of day in Amesbury, Mass., on May 8, 1871. He did not play professional ball until last year, when he played with the Pawtucket Club. His work attracted much attention, and he was signed by Manager Davis as an outfielder.

Frank Knauss, the Giants' new pitcher, was born in Cleveland, Oct. 1, 1868. He is the left-hand pitcher who Manager Davis signed while on his Western trip. Knauss played ball first in his native town. From there he went to Wheeling and then to Detroit, where he played in 1890 and 1891. From there he went to Columbus. The following year he came to New York, and his record speaks for itself.

The remainder of the team are all well known to New Yorkers. Amos W. Davis was born in New York City, in Mooreville, Ind., on May 30, 1871. In 1889 he became widely known while playing with the Indianapolis Club. From there he came to New York, and his record speaks for itself.

"Jack" Doyle, the Giants' clever first baseman, was born in "Auld Ireland" twenty-six years ago. When two years old Jack sailed for America with his parents and is a full-fledged American citizen. His baseball career began in 1892 when he pitched for the Lowell team. In 1893 he went to Washington, where he remained nearly two years. In 1894 he was transferred to New York, and like drawing blood and swelling the optic. A left on Craig's stomach made him very weak.

In the fifth round Craig tried rushing, but was met with straight lefts in the face and a heavy right-hander on the stomach. Both boys fought it out, and Craig managed to land a few rights on McCue's jaw and stomach, which did him damage. Both boys fought it out in the last round. McCue had the best of it, however, and was the stronger at the end. The referee declared the bout a draw.

HOT BOUTS IN JERSEY CITY.

McCu-Craig Battle Called a Draw—Collins and Patton Win.

The largest crowd that has ever attended a boxing show held in Jersey City was present last night at the Blue Front Athletic Club show in Wood's Hall.

The opening special bout of the evening was between Nick Collins and Jack Conway, six rounds at catch weights. Collins was twenty pounds heavier than Conway, whom he slugged very hard on the jaw, stomach and face. Conway landed a few heavy body punches, which put Collins in queer street also. Collins continued smashing Conway in the second round, drawing blood from his nose. In the third, Collins rushed to the ropes, where he landed three terrific blows on his jaw, knocking him down. Referee Tim Huddy stopped the bout and gave it to Collins.

The next bout was between Mike Patton and Jim Cassidy, who had been substituted for Ed Torney and Hughie O'Neil was six pounds overweight and Torney refused to fight. The Patton-Cassidy fight was a war, very rough and another punch would have sent him out, but Referee Tim Huddy stopped the bout and gave it to Patton.

Since this year's game was to be played at Cambridge, it is thought the Harvard Faculty will waive its objections to the match at South Bethlehem. The game will be a dual football league between the two universities. A game with Yale next season seems out of the question.

FIRST CENTURY OF 1895.

Cyclists' Public Run to Be Held on Long Island Sunday, April 28.

The first public century run of the season will be that on Sunday, April 28, under the auspices of the Century Wheelmen of New York. The route selected—College Point, L. I., to Sayville and back—is particularly good one and very easy to make.

The start will be made from College Point Ferry, foot of Ninety-ninth street, East River, at 5 A. M. If the weather should prove unfavorable it will be placed the following Sunday (May 5) at same hour.

The next bout was between Mike Patton and Jim Cassidy, who had been substituted for Ed Torney and Hughie O'Neil was six pounds overweight and Torney refused to fight. The Patton-Cassidy fight was a war, very rough and another punch would have sent him out, but Referee Tim Huddy stopped the bout and gave it to Patton.

OXFORD THE FAVORITE

English Experts Pick Her Crew to Win Next Saturday's Race.

Warm Welcome Ready for the Corn-nell Oarsmen at Henley.

Bad Weather for Training the Croker-Dwyer Horses.

Copyrighted, 1935, by the Associated Press.

LONDON, March 23.—Harring accidents or a change in the programme, the fifty-second boat race between crews of the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge will be decided on the Thames, from Putney Bridge to Mortlake, about four and a quarter miles, on Saturday next.

The Cantabs, who had had luck in their early training, owing to stress of weather and sickness among the crew, have steadily improved in form. Their boat is of cedar and fitted with the latest improvements. Her dimensions are: Length, 62 feet 4 inches; width, 22-3/4 inches; depth amidships, 9-1/4 inches; depth forward, 6-1/2 inches; depth at stern, 5-3/8 inches.

The names and weights of the Cambridge crew, subject to change, are:

T. B. Hope (Trinity Hall) bow, 12 lb.
P. C. Stewart (Trinity Hall) 2, 12 lb.
H. A. G. (Trinity Hall) 3, 12 lb.
W. A. G. (Trinity Hall) 4, 12 lb.
T. J. G. (Trinity Hall) 5, 12 lb.
D. C. G. (Trinity Hall) 6, 12 lb.
D. C. G. (Trinity Hall) 7, 12 lb.
D. C. G. (Trinity Hall) 8, 12 lb.
D. C. G. (Trinity Hall) 9, 12 lb.
D. C. G. (Trinity Hall) 10, 12 lb.

On the whole, the work of the Oxford crew, up to the present, seems to have met with more approval from the experts than that of the Cambridge men. The Oxford crew is in perfect and the new boat rows very smoothly. It is 61 feet 7 inches long, and is 22 inches wide amidships.

The following are the names and weights of the crew, subject to changes:

H. H. Cotton (Magdalen) bow, 12 lb.
M. C. P. (Magdalen) 2, 12 lb.
M. C. P. (Magdalen) 3, 12 lb.
M. C. P. (Magdalen) 4, 12 lb.
M. C. P. (Magdalen) 5, 12 lb.
M. C. P. (Magdalen) 6, 12 lb.
M. C. P. (Magdalen) 7, 12 lb.
M. C. P. (Magdalen) 8, 12 lb.
M. C. P. (Magdalen) 9, 12 lb.
M. C. P. (Magdalen) 10, 12 lb.

Oxford won last year, making victories in six successive years. They have been successful twenty-eight times and Cambridge twenty-two; only once, in 1877, did the color of the dead heat.

The greatest interest in taken in boat racing circles in the coming of the Cornell crew to compete at the Henley Regatta with England's crack oarsmen, and the points of the Americans are being eagerly discussed. They may be certain to attract considerable attention here in the prospect of the American horses now training at Newmarket.

Naturally, very few points are to be obtained by outsiders; but it is understood that the Americans feel confident of getting a fair share of the good things during the coming season, although the weather has interfered considerably with the work of the trainers.

Kenneth Malpin, of Lord Hawke's team of cricketers, has been selected for the Germantown Cricket Club, of Philadelphia, to take to the United States in September next a team of English amateur cricketers.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

Jack McAuliffe has promised his friends that he will train faithfully for his fight with Young Griffin and that when they meet in the ring he will be fit to fight for his life. Charles Johnston, Jim Mahoney and a great many other sporting men from Brooklyn and Williamsburg will bet large sums on Jack.

Tom Gaffney, of the Scottish American Athletic Club, who made a fine time in fifty-five seconds, has been matched by the New York Athletic Club to meet Jack Skille for six rounds at the boxing show given by the Club at New London April 15.

Owen Ziglar, the Philadelphia lightweight, and Charles Giering, of Baltimore, have been matched for an eight-round bout in Baltimore on April 25.

The Scottish American Athletic Club will give a boxing show in Wood's Hall, Jersey City, on April 22. Tom Gaffney will be matched to fight the winner of the New York Athletic Club, who will be decided at the "Scotts" show next Monday night.

The six-round bout between Jimmy Barry, of England, and Pauline, of this city, who was on Saturday evening, March 30, promises to be one of the most hotly contested bouts ever witnessed in the Windy City. Barry last year won the championship in twenty-eight rounds of a hard fought battle, and has improved greatly since their last meeting.

At the boxing show of the South Atlantic Athletic Club in Philadelphia tonight there will be a six-round bout between Jim Mahoney and Jack Skille. A promising featherweight of Philadelphia.

The Union Boat Club will give a smoking concert in the clubhouse tonight. There will be vocal and instrumental music by well-known performers, and exhibition three-round boxing bouts by crack amateurs.

Jimmy Gorman, of Paterson, who is matched with George Ryan for a four-round bout at the New York Athletic Club show on Saturday evening, April 20, has been matched to fight the winner of the New York Athletic Club, who will be decided at the "Scotts" show next Monday night.

The final wrestling bout for the championship of the New York Athletic Club will be contested on April 20, at the New York Athletic Club, between the winner of the New York Athletic Club, who will be decided at the "Scotts" show next Monday night.

Mike Dunn is confident that he will outpoint Joe Walcott at the Seattle Athletic Club show on April 20. The colored man's idea is to knock Walcott out in the first round. The other side of the coin is that Walcott is a hard fighter and will be worth a journey. Both are confident of pulling off the large end of the purse. Walcott has a record of 10 wins and 10 losses, and Walcott has a record of 10 wins and 10 losses.

Spouting men are awaiting with interest the outcome of the Knauss Athletic Club show on April 20. The colored man's idea is to knock Walcott out in the first round.
